for an evening at the movies as we present

My So-Called Enemy

Friday - November 3rd - 7pm
Birmingham Temple

Through the coming-of-age narratives of Adi, Gal, Hanin, Inas, Rawan and Rezan, audiences see how creating relationships across personal, political, racial, religious and physical divides are first steps towards resolving conflict. MY SO-CALLED ENEMY presents the complexities of the Israeli/Palestinian conflict through a human lens – and the possibility and hope that come from listening to each other's stories.

Facilitated by Rabbi Jeffrey Falick
Hosted by Birmingham Temple
Co-Sponsored by MCHR
